
In Moscow Region, head of Konstantinovskoye rural settlement, Ramenskoye District and his accomplices to stand trial for setting up organized criminal community for property frauds

The Moscow Office of the Investigative Committee has finished the investigation against head of Konstantinovskoye rural settlement, Ramenskoye District Vadim Priymak and four of his accomplices. They are charged with setting up an organized criminal community and membership in it (Parts 2 and 3 of Article 210 of the RF Penal Code), fraud (Part 4 of Article 159) and money-laundering (Part 3 of Article 174.1).

According to investigators, Priymak, while being the head of the village of Konstantinovskoye, in early 2012, set up a criminal community and involved in it Mikhail Domnikov, Anna Khaybullina, the head of Ramenskoye Office of Federal Cadaster Chamber of the Federal Service for State Registration, Cadaster and Cartography for Moscow Region, Andrey Solenov, a geodesist and Mikhail Rzhevsky, a businessman.

In the period between 2012 and 2013, Priymak and his accomplices committed at least 6 crimes connected with illegal takeoff of the lands of forestry in Ramenskoye District at least 36.5 ha in area and worth over 700 million rubles and one crime of money-laundering.

The crimes were revealed during another investigation against Priymak over a crime under part 4 of article 159 of the RF Penal Code for which he has already received 3.5 years in prison.

The investigators have enough evidence, so the criminal case with the approved indictment has been referred to court.

18 July 2016

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/1054587>