

---

Russian Investigative Committee Chairman at working meeting with Interpol secretary general

The Russian Investigative Committee has become today the venue of a working meeting between the Chairman of the Investigative Committee Alexander Bastrykin and Secretary General of Interpol Jürgen Stock who is currently on an official visit to the Russian Federation.

The parties continued the dialogue started at the May working meeting at the Interpol headquarters on international cooperation in criminal proceedings and countering transnational crimes.

They discussed a wide range of issues of mutual interest, including some aspects international search for criminals wanted by the Russian Investigative Committee and intensifying activity in this area.

The meeting was held in a constructive manner.

---

Official spokesperson for the RF Investigative Committee S.L. Petrenko

Изображения

22 June 2017

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/1145692>