
In Kaliningrad, check underway in media reports on mass brawl at pedestrian crossing possibly involving minor

A federal TV channel showed a footage on 13 July 2017 that pedestrians fought with a taxi driver and his passengers in Leninsky Avenue in the city of Kaliningrad. The video shows how a taxi passenger punches in the face a pedestrian looking like a minor. The Kaliningrad Region Office of the Investigative Committee has launched a check in the incident.

Investigators are working to identify all those involved in the conflict. A procedural decision will be following the check.
