
Congratulation of Investigative Committee's Chairman on 2018 New Year

Dear colleagues, veterans and friends!

The passing year will stay in our memory as the year when the Investigative Committee under the RF Prosecutor's Office turned 10 years and when preliminary investigation and Russian investigative system celebrated the 300th anniversary.

The Russian Investigative Committee has successfully passed yet another examination in professionalism by effectively doing its job and once again has justified trust of the President and people, proven its necessity and won decent portion of the public respect and recognition.

On New Year's Eve, I wholeheartedly thank all the employees of the Investigative Committee for selflessness and persistence you display while consolidating law and order.

I express sincere gratitude to trade unions and veteran organizations of the Investigative Committee for active and disinterested aid in educating young employees. Your invaluable experience and model service to our homeland help the younger generation to develop, build their pride, love and respect to their job.

Special congratulations go to our younger generation – cadets and students of the Investigative Committee’s educational institutions, their teachers and mentors. You are the future and hope of Russian investigative authorities.

I wish the staff of the Investigative Committee success in their work and studies, sound health, vitality and optimism to each of you and your loved ones.

May your families always be the source of your joy and peace, giving you comfort, support and love of your home. May the new year bring you happiness and wellbeing, live up to all your expectations and hopes, success in all your kind causes, plans and intentions for stronger law and order and prosperity of our country.

Happy New Year, dear friends!

Chairman of the Investigative Committee

General of Justice of the Russian Federation Alexander Bastrykin
