You show special tender and love to children injured during military operations. To recover one's health is the most important task for you, and with honour you fulfil it with your hard work regardless of personal time, for there is nothing more precious than life!"

The Chairman of the Investigative Committee of the Russian Federation stressed that “thanks to the dedication and the expertise, care and attention of the staff of the Research Institute for Emergency Children’s Surgery and Traumatology they manage to recover health and bring to full life children, who were lucky to be saved and recovered only because of you. Your generosity knows no bounds: Vanya Voronov, who was seriously injured in an explosion of an ammunition; Pavel Arkhipov, who survived clinical death with inadequate medical care, and hundreds and thousands of other children, who literally got a second chance. And recently, at the request of the Investigative Committee of the Russian Federation Ministry of Health specialists together with Leonid Roshal conducted medical video and in-person consultations to help a seriously ill child being treated in Vologda, who suffered as a result of criminal actions.”
