
Alexander Bastrykin listens to report on final stage of commissioning new wing of Investigative Committee building

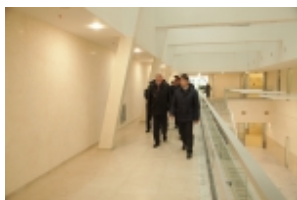

Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia Alexander Bastrykin has held a meeting in the new wing of the Investigative Committee building located in Tekhnicheskoy Street in Moscow. It was attended by Deputy Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia Igor Krasnov, heads of a number of units of the Central Office of the Committee, and representatives of the project and construction organizations.

Alexander Bastrykin listened to a report on the preparation of the building for commissioning, learned about the actions that had already been carried out and the results of the implementation of the instructions given during the previous meeting. The Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia inspected the results of the elimination of previously detected drawbacks, examined the offices, and evaluated their communication equipment and convenience for officers of the Committee. Alexander Bastrykin paid attention not only to the preparation of the offices but also to the recreation and sports areas and the office of the situation center. Once again, he drew the attention of the audience to the provision of all safety measures required for the future use of facilities of the building.

During the meeting, the Head of the Investigative Committee of Russia gave a number of specific instructions aimed at the completion of the commissioning of the building.

Изображения

30 September 2019

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/1394518>