
Congratulation of the Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia on the Day of National Unity

I sincerely congratulate investigative veterans, officers of the Investigative Committee of Russia, teaching staff and students of educational institutions of the Committee on the Day of National Unity!

Russia is a multinational country with century-long traditions. At the most complicated historical moments our fathers and grandfathers, demonstrating genuine patriotism and cohesion, united all their efforts to protect freedom and independence of the Motherland. Kuzma Minin and Dmitry Pozharskiy still remain a vivid example of selflessness, courage and loyalty to the Motherland.

Russian national sovereignty and security, its successful development and confident moving forward depend in the first place on preserving and strengthening of moral foundations inherited from ancestors and on personal impact of each of us in the common future.

On the Day of National Unity I wish everyone peaceful sky, happiness, well-being and new achievements for the benefit of the Motherland.

Chairman of the Investigative Committee
