
.Coronavirus vaccination at the Investigative Committee continues

An active COVID-19 vaccination campaign to protect life and health and prevent the spread of coronavirus infection continues in the Central Office of the Investigative Committee of the Russian Federation, in its educational institutions and in the country's regional investigative units.

Investigative Committee officers come into daily contact with a large number of people and colleagues, so for their own safety and the safety of others they are actively vaccinated voluntarily. Even employees who have already had a coronavirus infection are vaccinated.

In recent days alone, officers and senior officers of investigative units in the Republic of Crimea and the city of Sevastopol, in the Leningrad, Vladimir, Oryol, Ryazan and Novgorod regions, as well as employees of the Moscow, North-West and Volga Transport Investigations departments received the COVID-19 vaccine.

And this is just a small fraction of the Investigating Committee officers who want to show by their example that the vaccine is the only way to prevent the spread of coronavirus infection and to keep those who, for whatever reason, cannot get vaccinated safe.
