
Kirov resident implicated in threats to prosecutor attended court hearing to overturn Navalny's suspended sentence

The Main Investigations Department of the Investigative Committee of the Russian Federation is investigating a probe into threats to kill and harm to health made via the Internet to the public prosecutor of the Public Prosecutor's Office in Moscow in connection with his participation in a court hearing to revoke the suspended sentence of Navalny

The involvement of the Kirov resident in the crime was established as a result of the investigation.

Searches were carried out at the suspect's place of residence and work in cooperation with the Interior Ministry's Directorate K. Items and documents of relevance to the investigation were seized.

The suspect made a detailed confession during interrogation about the circumstances of the crime.

The issue of charging him with an offence under Part 2 of Article 296 of the Criminal Code (threatening to kill or cause harm to health against a prosecutor in connection with the administration of justice) and choosing a preventive measure is being considered.

The criminal investigation is ongoing.

12 August 2021

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/1600526>