
The Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia instructed to report on the progress of the criminal investigation into the murder of a resident of Tver, committed in 2008

The Tver Regional Investigative Department of the Investigative Committee of Russia continues to investigate a criminal case into the murder of a man committed in 2008. According to investigators, on February 1, 2008 in the evening the victim put his car in the parking lot, but did not return home, and on February 6 his body with signs of violent death was found buried in a wooded area. Despite the long-standing nature of the crime and lack of obvious traces, investigators managed to establish all the circumstances and persons involved in the murder 13 years later. On October 30 this year four suspects were taken into custody.

The Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia instructed the head of the investigative department A. Kizimov to report on all the established circumstances. The progress of the investigation of the case was placed under supervision of the Central Office of the Committee.
