
The Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia instructed to study an appeal of an initiative group on the actions of two Russian musicians

The Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia Alexander Ivanovich Bastrykin instructed the Main Investigative Department of the Investigative Committee of Russia to thoroughly examine the arguments set forth in the appeal to him from an initiative "group of patriots" as part of the pre-investigation. In a statement published in one of the media, a group of individuals asks the head of the Investigative Committee of Russia to check the activities of musicians Noize MC (Ivan Alekseev) and Oxxxymiron (Miron Fedorov).

The initiators of the appeal point out that in their creative work these performers promote negative attitude towards members of law enforcement agencies, and there are also signs of attempts to rehabilitate Nazism and extremist activities.

A.I. Bastrykin ordered to investigate all stated arguments and give an appropriate legal assessment of what happened based on the results.
