
The Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia instructed to report on the progress of the investigation into the allocation of substandard housing to orphans in the Belgorod Region

The Valuisky inter-district investigative department of the Investigative Committee of Russia for the Belgorod region is checking information that in the city of Valuiki in 2015 orphans were given substandard housing, which is now falling into disrepair.

Alexander Bastrykin instructed the head of the investigative department S. Zakharov to report on the progress and results of the check, and put it under control in the Central Office of the agency.
