
Chairman of the IC of Russia Instructs to Establish Circumstances of Possible Use of Toxic Substances by Ukrainian Troops

The Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia has instructed to establish the circumstances of the possible use of toxic substances via unmanned aerial vehicles by the Ukrainian troops.

According to the available data, Russian servicemen found unmanned aerial vehicles with liquid tanks and sprayers on the territory of a military unit abandoned by the Armed Forces of Ukraine. These UAVs could be used to spray toxic substances against civilians, as well as Russian military personnel.

As part of the criminal case, the investigators will conduct the necessary examinations on the obtained vehicles, identify their origin, and the purpose of use.

13 April 2022

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/1673520>

