
The Head of the Investigative Committee of Russia instructs to launch a criminal case on the beating a 10-year-old child in Novosibirskaya oblast

In social networks, there were some messages about the intention of Novosibirsk's citizens to appeal to the Head of the Russian Investigative Committee in connection with the beating of a 10-year-old child by other children on August 12, 2022. It was reported that the young boy stood up for another child who had an argument with aggressive teenagers, and the beaten boy was subsequently hospitalized with a concussion.

The Chairman of the Investigative Committee instructed Mr. Zaripov V.B., acting Head of the regional Investigative Directorate, to launch a criminal case and report on the situation. The progress of the order's execution is a subject to control in the Main Investigative Directorate.
