
Blood samples of close relatives of Jakarta jet crash Russian victims handed to Indonesian side

The investigators of the Central Investigation Department of the Russian Investigative Committee in investigation of a criminal case over Sukhoi Superjet-100 crash in Jakarta have got blood samples of close relatives of close relatives of Russians killed in the plane crash.

Today, the samples have been handed through Russian Ambassador to the Indonesian side for DNA test to identify the bodies.

15 May 2012

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/509406>