
Memorandum of Understanding signed between Russia's Investigative Committee and Police of the Israeli Ministry of the Interior

At present moment the delegation of the Russia's Investigative Committee headed by its Chairman Alexander Bastrykin is paying a working visit to Israel.

Today Memorandum of Understanding was signed between Russia's Investigative Committee and Police of the Israeli Ministry of the Interior.

Under this Memorandum the parties expressed wish and aspiration for implementing cooperation in different areas, including fighting terrorism and extremism; human traffic and illegal migration; finance and corruption crimes and other areas.

During the visit the Russian Delegation was familiarized with a structure of Israeli police force, its methods and modern technical means in crime fighting.

As a result of a constructive conversation the parties expressed interest in further development of cooperation.

15 November 2012

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/511886>