
In Stavropol Territory criminal case against Vladimir Ambartsumov charged with sexual violence over 9-year-old Anna Prokolenko finished

In Stavropol Territory investigating bodies of the Russia's Investigative Committee have finished investigating a criminal case against Vladimir Ambartsumov, 30. He is charged with crimes under paragraph "c" of part 3 of article 132 (sexual violence), part 1 of article 131 (rape), part 1 of article 132 (sexual violence), paragraph "b" of part 4 of article 131 (rape – two episodes), paragraph "b" of part 4 of article 132 (sexual violence), paragraphs "c" and "j" of part 2 of article 105 of the RF Criminal Code (murder).

According to investigators, on 23 July 2012, Ambartsumov, having encountered Anna Prokopenko on the street, introduced himself as sales representative of a cosmetics company and offered the girl to earn some money. For that he offered the girl to go to the office of the company, but lured the child into the forest, where he raped and sexually abused her. After that he strangled the girl and hid the body in the same forest covering it with elements of roofing slate.

In addition, during inquiry, investigators have found more crimes committed by Ambartsumov. Namely, on 3 July 2012, he raped a young woman in Pyatigorsk and in September 2004 pretending to help with a leak in a bathroom, came in one of the flats in a block of flats in Pyatigorsk and sexually abused a 12-year-old girl, who was in the flat without parents.

Investigators have collected enough evidence and the case has been sent to have the indictment approved and to be later sent to court.

21 December 2012

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/512390>