
Chairman of the Russia's Investigative Committee thanked investigators for solving murder of Irina Kabanova in shortest time

Chairman of the Russia's Investigative Committee Alexander Bastrykin thanked investigators of the Moscow Main Investigations Directorate for their efficient, professional and devoted work in investigating murder of Irina Kabanova.

The investigators in the shortest time carried out examination of the crime scene and psychologically correctly revealed contradictions in behavior of Aleksey Kabanov, thanks to which they found traces of the crime, committed against his wife and exposed the killer.

In the near future all the members of the operations investigating group will be awarded by the order of the Chairman of the Investigative Committee.

12 January 2013

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/512429>

