Unfortunately, the number of veterans grows smaller every year, and so it is important to collect history from war veterans, who are testifying the truth and are sincerely worried about the patriotic feelings in modern society.

Young investigators assured the veterans that they will be true to the high ideals of the older generation and will faithfully serve the Fatherland.

The Head of the Investigations Directorate Alexander Yelantsev congratulated veterans on the Victory Day, thanked them for their tireless willingness to share their experiences with the younger generation responsible for peace on earth.
