Chairman of Investigative Committee Alexander Bastrykin congratulates women on International Women's Day

Dear women!

Please, accept our warmest and sincerest congratulations on International Women's Day – 8 March!

On this day we express special respect and care to you – the best part of humanity, we give you the warmth of our hearts, wish you joy, smiles and spring cheerfulness.

You wonderfully combine beautiful qualities – inner strength, firmness, optimism and diligence. All of them have always helped to make your family stronger and your work successful.

You play an important role in the life and activity of the Investigative Committee. The tasks of protecting the law and order and fighting the crime are solved to a large extent thanks to your professionalism, diligence and high reliability. Despite the load of your duties, you remain an example of charm, femininity, natural wisdom and beauty.

I would like to say special words of deep gratitude to all wives of Investigative Committee officials, who properly bear the load of being comrades-in-arms and keepers of hearths.

On this day you will get a lot of flowers, poems and songs. May happiness, love and good luck be with forever. May the sky above your heads be peaceful and children's joy, peace, well and comfort fill your homes.

Happy holiday, our dear women!

Chairman of the Investigative Committee of Russia
