
Investigative Committee Chairman holds briefing in Tatarstan to hear progress of investigations in Admiral shopping center fire

Alexander Bastrykin, Chairman of the Russia's Investigative Committee, has arrived today with a working visit in Tatarstan. He examined the scene of the fire in the Admiral shopping center in Klara Tsentkin street and then held a briefing to hear the progress of investigation in deaths of people during the fire in the Admiral shopping center. At the end of the briefing Mr. Bastrykin gave a number of explicit orders as to the direction of the investigation.

Mr. Bastrykin also laid flower at the scene of the fire and to the stela set to commemorate victims of a plane crash that happened in Kazan on 17 November 2013.

16 March 2015

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/905352>