
Alexander Bastrykin meets cadets in Saint-Petersburg

In Saint-Petersburg the Chairman of the Russia's Investigative Committee has met cadets of Alexander Nevsky Cadet School and cadet classes of the Investigative Committee made up of orphans and children left without parental care.

Little guests visited the Hermitage Museum, Peter and Paul Fortress, Museum of Political Police and State Security, premises of SOBR Granit of Saint-Petersburg and Leningrad Region Main Office of the Russian Ministry of the Interior, Suvorov Military School, House of Officers of the Western Military District, had a bus tour around the city.

This was the third meeting of the Chairman with cadets from Moscow, Khimki, Vologda and Saint-Petersburg. During the meeting Mr. Bastrykin told about wider possibilities to continue studying in Investigative Committee educational institutions and cadets shared their impressions of the excursions.

As the tradition goes, at the end of the meeting the Chairman gave cadets presents and souvenirs.

Head of Media Relations V.I. Markin

Изображения

20 May 2015

Page address: <https://en.sledcom.ru/news/item/929381>